

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
March 15, 2010

Shermco's Mike Moore to speak at Mine Health and Safety Conference
Electrical Safety: Arc Flash and NFPA 70E Compliance

DALLAS – Mike Moore, of Shermco Industries, is slated to speak at the 28th annual South Central Joint Mine Health and Safety Conference in Shreveport, L.A., March 23-25, 2010.

Moore will be among the conference's notable lineup of health and safety speakers, presenting on electrical safety issues concerning the mining industry, including arc flash and NFPA 70E compliance.

"Over the past 30 years, health and safety education and solutions have really come to the forefront of the mining industry," said Moore. "Electrical safety certainly isn't something this industry takes lightly."

The yearly conference is held by the South Central District of the Mine Safety and Health Administration, which serves Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Hundreds of mining, contractor and vendor representatives from across the United States are expected to be in attendance.

The MSHA was formed by the United States Department of Labor in 1978. The administration enforces compliance with mandatory mining safety and health standards. For more information on the MSHA, visit www.msha.gov.

ABOUT SHERMCO

Shermco Industries is a provider of safe, reliable testing, repair, professional training, maintenance and analysis of rotating apparatus and electrical power distribution systems and related equipment for the light, medium, and heavy industrial base nationwide. Founded in 1974 in Dallas, the company is comprised of two strategic business units; Machine Services Division and an Engineering Services Division. With a corporate location in Irving, Texas, a sales office in Brussels and service centers in Austin, Tulsa and Sweetwater, Shermco Industries has over 250 full-time employees. The company is a member in good standing with the Electrical Apparatus Service Association, American Wind Energy Association and the International Electrical Testing Association. For more information about Shermco Industries, visit their website at <http://www.shermco.com>.