Roger Harrison hired as Shermco Industries field service account manager

DALLAS – Shermco Industries has hired Roger Harrison to fill the position of field service account manager for the Fort Worth area, west Texas and New Mexico.

Harrison brings over 16 years of experience in the electrical distribution industry to Shermco and its clients. A seasoned professional, Harrison has been involved in production, field service, planning and inside and outside sales. He is also skilled in maintenance, acceptance testing, power studies and emergency restoration projects.

“Roger is the kind of experienced electrical industry professional we were seeking to handle business development and client needs in this region,” said Mike Moore, vice president of sales for Shermco Industries. “We are so happy to have him on our team.”
