Shermco Industries donates over $5000 worth of toys to WFAA Santa's Helpers

DALLAS – A month-long toy drive at Shermco Industries' headquarters resulted in heaps of toys for Santa's Helpers, with donations exceeding $5000 worth of toys.

Erick Earp, field service production coordinator in Shermco's machine services division, helped organize the toy drive at Shermco.

"The WFAA studio staff, with whom we dropped off the toys, was impressed with our haul," said Earp. "It was a fun and rewarding experience especially knowing how these toys will brighten the lives of so many local children. Giving back to the community is how we roll at Shermco"

WFAA Santa's Helpers is celebrating its 42nd year of collecting holiday toys for more than 50,000 children throughout the Dallas/Fort Worth counties of Dallas, Tarrant, Collin and Denton. Pete Delkus, WFAA weatherman, is in charge of the Santa's Helpers toy drive.
